

Plan for a legacy of generosity

Succession planning at NCF helps ensure your charitable intentions continue after your lifetime by documenting your wishes, supporting future giving, and extending your impact for years to come.

Benefits of a succession plan

Generosity is often one of the most meaningful values we pass on. A succession plan helps transform today's giving into a lasting legacy, providing clarity for your family and continued support for the causes closest to your heart.

Continue impact beyond your lifetime

Ensure your generosity continues to make an impact in ways that reflect your values.

Document your intentions

Create a clear plan for how your Giving Fund should be stewarded in the future.

Inspire the next generation

Invite future generations into a lasting legacy of generosity by naming successors.

Adapt as life changes

Easily update your plan as your family, priorities, and charitable interests evolve.

Choose the right level of flexibility without adding complexity

NCF offers a continuum of succession planning options, ranging from a self-serve online experience to more tailored approaches for complex charitable goals.

As you consider how your generosity will continue, your local NCF team is here to walk alongside you with prayer, thoughtful guidance, and practical support to help you discern the approach that's right for you.

How it works

Creating a succession plan is a simple way to document how you want your generosity to continue after your lifetime. NCF offers flexible options designed to help you create and maintain a plan that reflects what matters most to you.

Clarify your vision

Determine how you'd like any remaining balance in your Giving Fund to support charities or charitable causes after your lifetime.

Create your succession plan

Document your wishes through NCF's succession planning options. Create a plan online through your Giving Fund, or contact your local NCF team to explore more tailored solutions.

Update as life changes

Review and revise your plan over time, so it continues to reflect your priorities, relationships, and charitable interests.

Extend the ministry of generosity

Many givers choose to include NCF in their succession plan as a way of helping more people experience the joy and impact of biblical generosity. By including NCF's ministry, you help equip future generations of givers and create more opportunities for generosity to flourish for years to come.

The NCF difference

Planning your charitable legacy can feel like a daunting task with all the tax and legal considerations. NCF has been walking alongside families with their charitable legacy giving for more than 40 years. Our team works with you and your advisors to connect your estate plan to your giving intentions and help your generosity continue beyond your lifetime.

40+

Years helping families
create charitable legacies

35K+

Families who've trusted NCF with their charitable giving

$336M+

To ministry through charitable estate giving since 2018

Start your plan →
ncfgiving.com/succession

